Build your professional network and connect to opportunity

- 30 million+ employers are on LinkedIn, with 20 million+ open job opportunities
- Millions of mentors and mentees have signed up to give and get career advice on LinkedIn
- 2.8 million recruiters use LinkedIn to fill open jobs every day
1. Workforce
The people who are currently working or available for work in a specific region. The vision of LinkedIn is to create economic opportunity for every member of the global workforce.

2. Connections
Contacts on LinkedIn. You can add connections by sending invitations to other people on the platform, or by accepting invitations from other people.

3. Network
A connected community of people. Networking is an activity to strengthen relationships with others and can lead to professional opportunities including job offers.

4. Referral
When a job seeker is recommended for a career opportunity by someone in his or her network.
Define your professional brand

1. What makes a good brand?
2. Identify your brand
3. Show you’re the right choice
Define your professional brand

What makes a good brand?

A brand is a company’s promise to its customer.

It tells customers what they can expect from the company’s products and services.

It shows how its products are unique from its competitors’.
Nike vs. Adidas

How to decide which kind of shoe you like more?

What does each brand promise its customers?

What can you expect from a Nike Air vs. an Adidas high top?
How are they different?
Define your professional brand

So wait, I have my own brand?

Your brand is your promise to those around you.

It tells people what they can expect from working with you and around you.

It shows how you are unique from other people.

You can shape your brand by the way you present yourself to others.
Define your professional brand

The value of your brand:

Why choose you?

How does an employer, coach or college decide who to choose?

What do you promise your employer, team or school?

What can they expect from you?

How are you unique?
Define your professional brand

Show you’re the right choice

Your brand includes who you are now:

- Skills: Your school, work experience and specific skills you learned in each job or class
- Network: How you are to be around and work with, as told by the people you know
- Information: Your areas of expertise and wisdom
Define your professional brand

Show you’re the right choice

And what you want in the future:

✅ Values: Things that are important to you and give meaning to your life

✅ Goals: What you want to be doing in 2, 10 or 30 years
ACTIVITY

What is my professional brand?

Grab a partner and brainstorm three words your friends would use to describe you.
Define your professional brand

Show you’re the right choice

Decide what you want people’s first impression of you to be.

- Make a strong LinkedIn profile so your professional profile shows up in Google first
- Stay active on social media to build your online presence
- Be careful what you post that could harm your professional brand
Build your LinkedIn profile

1. Set up your account
2. Profile vs. resume
3. Take a great photo
4. Edit your profile
Set up your account

Visit LinkedIn.com on a desktop computer, or download the mobile app.
Profile vs. resume

There are big differences between your LinkedIn profile and your resume. For example, your LinkedIn profile:

- speaks to all potential employers, not just a single one
- goes into more detail with skills, projects, interests, certifications, and more
- allows other professionals and employers to interact, learn, and contact you
- contains recommendations and endorsements

Members with profile photos receive up to 21x more views and 9x more connection requests

- Use a background that isn’t distracting
- Dress for the job you want
- Smile and have friendly expression
- Make sure your face takes up a majority of the frame
Edit your profile: Your story in your words

Click the “Me” icon at the top of your LinkedIn homepage.

On the right side of the page, click “Add new profile section” to begin editing and adding to your profile.

Add your:
- Location & industry
- Work & internship experience
- Volunteer experience
- Education* & certifications
- Skills
- Program or organization

* You can choose whether you want to display your education in your intro.
Your headline is an opportunity to show what you are – not just what you do.

When writing your headline, ask yourself:

- If this is the only thing someone sees, what does it say about me?
- Does this represent my professional brand and show why I am unique?
- Does it capture what a recruiter would care about?
Your summary is the best place for you to communicate your professional brand and put your own spin on your experience. Here’s an easy formula we recommend:

- 1-2 sentences about who you are
- 3-5 sentences about your experience, top skills and key passions
- 1-2 sentences about your future goals and how other members can engage with you

Make sure to include a summary of at least 40 words to show up in the search results of other members.
Build your professional network

We recommend that you always add a personalized message to make it clear to the other person why you are reaching out.

Build your professional network

Search for new connections

After clicking “Connect,” you can send your invitation immediately or personalize your invitation request by selecting “Add a note.”
Expand your network strategically

Who should I reach out to on LinkedIn?

- People you have something in common with
- People who have a job or work at a company that interests you
- People who may be able to connect you to someone who can help you achieve your goals

What should I say?

- Who you are
- How you came across their profile
- How they can help you
Use your network on LinkedIn to connect to opportunity

1. Message connections
2. Ask for informational interviews
3. Request referrals
4. Request recommendations
5. Find a mentor with career advice
6. Add value and engage

Your network can help you get the job

Message connections

Send messages to your connections directly from:
- The LinkedIn messaging page
- Your connections page
- Their profile page

If you don’t know the person you’re messaging in real life, clearly explain why you are reaching out.
Ask for informational interviews

The purpose of an informational interview is for you to:

✓ Gain advice on your career path
✓ Learn about an industry you are interested in ✓ Learn about a specific company you’d like to work for ✓ Establish a professional bond

After an informational interview, professionals may also consider you for future job openings they learn of.
Use your network

Ask for a job referral by reaching out to your connections at companies you intend to apply to.

Make sure to include:

✅ Why you are interested in the specific role

✅ Your appreciation for your connection's consideration

DID YOU KNOW? More than 60% of the workforce has referred someone to work at their company.

Program Manager, FixDex Communications

JAN 12

Kate Kiefer • 2:02 PM
Hi Seth,

Hope you are doing well! I saw that FixDex is hiring a Communications Specialist, and I’m very interested in applying. This role seems like a great fit for me because it needs a self-starter who can operate within a complex environment.

Would you be willing to share any information on the position, the team, and what they might be looking for in a candidate? I'd be greatly appreciative.

Let me know if you have any questions about my experience as it relates to this role.

All the best,
- Kate
Recommendations on LinkedIn are like references from people in your network.

On a connection’s profile, click More... and then Request a Recommendation.

You can select your relationship to this person, indicate whether you worked with them in a particular role, and customize your message.

Who should I ask to recommend me?

- ✓ Current or former managers
- ✓ Current or former colleagues, even those that were not directly on your team but who you worked closely with
- ✓ People who have mentored or advised you professionally, including through nonprofit training programs
Find a mentor for career advice

From your profile page, select the Career Advice hub located in Your Dashboard.

Set your preferences by sharing who you would like to receive advice from and LinkedIn will suggest members who have relevant experience.

At this time, only members with less than 10 years of professional experience are eligible as mentees in the Career Advice tool.
Add value and engage with your network

Invest time in your Connections and request informational interviews

Like and share things that people in your network will care about and post

Join groups and exchange insights with school or program alumni

Give testimonials and recommendations to others
